Social Services Prague 9 together with Telmed htp. introduce : CAREOS - Assistive Box

Being able to stay in their home environment as long as possible is a wish of almost all seniors but living on their own means facing complex challenges. Though health protection and security are some of the most important our research revealed that social and emotional challenges are of no less concern to people in their old age.

By defining the term “emotional assistance”, Telmed htp. strives to create a new, revolutionary foundation for the concept of assistive technology.

Multifunctional Careos Assistive box derives from the concept of emotional assistance and the equality of social and emotional issues to those of safety. It is a compact device meant to offer comprehensive service. Its operation is meant to be as simple as possible while offering a large number of adjustable functionalities. In addition to monitoring one's life manifestations and alerting to potential dangers, it offers functions that strongly enhance the user's positive emotions as an important basis for maintaining overall good mental and physical condition - relaxation music, online control of the correct implementation of therapeutic exercises, audiobooks, the possibility of finding new friends via social network for seniors, filling in "emotional" questionnaires with feedback, two-way audio video communication with the selected person and others.

If you are interested in a comprehensive yet simple device designed to deal with various issues of seniors' lives join CAREOS - Assistive Box introduction session on 12 July 2021.
